

Don't be scared of joining our golf club – “What we do to help you settle in”

Golf is a fun, sociable game played by friendly, sociable people. We provide a relaxed environment for new members to meet other members at the Club. We support new members in a number of ways as follows:

- The Golf Club Manager, Martin Edenborough, keeps in touch with new members to ensure they integrate and find people to play a round of 18 holes with for as long as is necessary.
- By operating a tee booking system we know when other members are playing and can suggest various groups to join at times when you want to play. There are many informal “roll-up” groups that welcome new members both weekdays and weekends.
- The Stockwood Vale Members and Friends Face Book page. New members post a date and time they wish to play. Other members reply with an invitation to join them.
- The club has 200 plus competitions a year and all members are welcome to put their names down on the competition entry sheets should they wish to participate. All our staff are trained to explain how competitions and handicaps work, all of which is very simple.
